

SOCIAL VALUE CHECKLIST

At ACC Liverpool our experienced team are ready to help you build sustainable elements into your event delivery, helping to offset any negative impact our events and operations may have on the local environment. That's why we've created a social value checklist for you to consider as you start your planning journey with us.

If you would like more information about any of the below points then please speak to your Event Manager.

Download our handy social value factsheets and share with your team and delegates so that they know ACC Liverpool is a green venue.

Consider having a paperless event. We have plenty of digital screens available throughout the campus to promote your sponsors and communicate key messages to your delegates.

Consider including a health and well-being aspect to your event. This could be a morning jog along the waterfront to get those endorphins pumping, or set up a Quiet Zone for any delegates that need a break from your busy programme.

Encourage your delegates to think about their mode of travel to the venue. Liverpool is easily reachable by public transport, and once you're here we have lots of options to get around - e-scooters, bikes and on-foot!

Ask our in-house team to measure the carbon footprint of your on-site activities, or use SAM - a free tool launched by ICE (with support from us) - to measure the footprint of your entire event, including travel or any off-site social activities.

Use local suppliers! Our procurement team have a handy list of local printers, photographers, florists and much more to meet your event needs.

Make your menu as inclusive as possible. Our catering partners Sodexo Live! can work with you to create a range of tailored menus - from carbon neutral options through to vegan delights - and all sourced locally.

Consider incorporating a legacy element or project into your event and speak to your sales account manager about how we can help facilitate this with our dedicated local Legacy Champions.

Work with us to arrange the donation of any leftover food or equipment to some of our local charities.
